- Minister V. Somanna inspects Torchlight Parade Grounds and Mysore Palace
- Official invitation to Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa and Pramoda Devi Wadiyar at 6 pm today
- Golden Throne to be assembled at Durbar Hall of Palace on Sept. 24

Mysuru District Minister V. Somanna seen discussing a point with DC Abhiram G. Sankar and DCP M. Muthuraj during an inspection at Torchlight Parade Grounds in Bannimantap this morning as Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath, City BJP President Dr. B.H. Manjunath, District BJP President M. Shivanna and others look on.

Mysuru, Sept. 19 (PM&VNS)- Aviation enthusiasts are in for a visual treat this Dasara as a full-fledged Dasara Air Show will be held on Oct. 2.

This was revealed by Mysuru District Minister V. Somanna while he was addressing media persons at Torchlight Parade Grounds this morning. "MP Pratap Simha had been given in-charge of organising a full-fledged Air Show" he said.

Somanna said he had discussed this with Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa and the CM's Office was following up the matter with Ministry of Defence.

Deputy Commissioner Abhiram G. Sankar said that the Dasara Committee wanted to organise the Air Show on Oct. 2 but the final decision was left to the Ministry of Defence and the Indian Air Force.

"Last year, people were disappointed as they could not see fighter jets and other aircraft used by the IAF as there was no Air Show. This year, we are hoping to get a positive reply from the authorities," he added.

On Open Street Festival, he said that this year, the Dasara Committee had decided to organise Hasiru Santhe and Chitra Santhe instead of Open Street Festival.

The events will be organised at Krishnaraja Boulevard and would provide an opportunity for budding artists and farmers.

Earlier, Minister Somanna, who arrived at the Torchlight Parade Grounds from Bengaluru, inspected the works being carried out for the mega Torchlight Parade to be held on Oct. 8, culminating this year's Dasara.

Profligate with public funds

Expenditure incurred on advertisements by companies manufacturing products that are sought and bought by citizens as well as services availed by target sections in the land's population seems to be rising phenomenally, given the tariff charged by television operators with high TRP ratings, calculated in seconds occupied on the small screen. Compared to the earnings by the electronic media, including the smart phone, through advertisements, the income earned by the print media is restricted to only a few dailies commanding large circulation. In this backdrop, the advisory for the consumption of industry players and traders to advertise even if the business is bad doesn't ensure survival in the respective enterprise. Space for commercial advertisements in both broadsheets and tabloids, by law, has to be limited to a certain proportion of the total space. The dailies are obliged to provide the rest of the space for printing matter with news value. Circulation is strongly linked to the expectations of the reading public, the point that no management of the daily can afford to ignore. The current scenario of what is presented on the small screen and published in the dailies clearly shows that the people seem to be lapping up narratives of the free-for-all by the politicians of all hues.

Fiscal discipline, particularly in spending money drawn from the treasury is known to have been the hallmark of administrators in the then reign of the kings of Mysore State, funds set aside for measures to safeguard citizens' welfare. That genre of law-makers has vanished without trace, yielding place to their counterparts exploiting power and authority to splurge public funds for personal gains, which is there for all to read about in the dailies.

People are no longer aghast on reading reports flashed as news in dailies mentioning outlays on projects of all hues in amounts of astronomical proportions. In particular, amounts of cost estimates for laying roads, construction of bridges and also public buildings (such as the new building for housing the Office of the District Administration in the city) are known to be many times the amount needed for each project. Even lay people are freely talking about the cuts Ministers and functionaries in the Government are making from those projects. Functions of laying foundation stones, inaugurating facilities, launching schemes of all sorts and so on, only for photo-shoot and publicity of law-makers are the order of the day. These are advertisement for elected representatives of people at public cost, which the people at large don't seem to be concerned about.

While the victims of mishaps of various kinds being offered relief in cash may be taken as a positive, one is left wondering if sufficient funds are in the kitty of the State. Knowing full well the profligate acts of those in power, creating personal wealth, people continuing to elect the same kind of their representatives is hard to gulp.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

I was a little apprehensive as my retirement loomed large before me. My friends were equally concerned about me and were lavish with their advice. I was cautioned about the ills of an inactive lifestyle that could soon turn my body into a storehouse of diseases. Don't become a permanent fixture at home, poking your nose into everything, another one advised. Others told me not to offer unsolicited advice and not to refer to the 'good old days' too often. Then came the retirement proper. It slowly dawned on me, after the initial confusion, that retired life was not that scary after all. I did not mind being the lord of my time after a long period of time-bound servitude. Luckily I live in a place far from metropolitan chaos and my house is surrounded by trees as old as time. My grey hair and walking stick even endow me with some privileges. Young people who would otherwise fight over a seat in buses, now graciously offer their seats to me. Old age and superannuation, after all, have their own rewards if one is careful not to tread on other people's toes. — Sivan Pillai in The New Indian Express

Woman spins world's largest hula hoop

Las Vegas: A former circus performer at Las Vegas broke the Guinness World Record for largest hula hoop spun by a female. She said that she had to wear a protective vest to keep from damaging her ribs.

Getti Kehayova achieved the Guinness record by spinning a hula hoop measuring 17 feet and 1/4 inches in diameter around her body three times.

"It was quite painful because the hula hoop is pretty heavy, so every time that revolution and spin comes around and it touches every part of your body, it kind of feels like a punch up against your body," she told Guinness.

The performer said "My dad set a Guinness World Records title for the seven-man high perch pyramid act. A person jumped off a teeterboard, got catapulted to do a somersault in mid-air, and landed on top of as the seventh person as the stunt. My older sister had the record for the most hula hoops spun."

Really...?

- If you are a coffee lover, you would have noticed that your favourite liquid leaves a circular stain on the top of the mug. Have you wondered why this occurs? Well, we have the answer for you. Based on a study published in the science journal Nature, researchers were able to determine the movement of particles. The particles in coffee move towards their perimeter forming a dense ring around the edge of the liquid. When coffee evaporates, these particles do not evaporate and stay in the same place. The particles also tend to remain in the same place when the volume of the coffee decreases. In another study, the researchers were able to determine that the shape of the coffee particle is spherical. These particles tend to spread easily towards the edges when compared to other shapes.

Lalitha Mahal Road residents complain of water scarcity

Sir,

We the residents of Sankalp-mahal on Lalitha Mahal Road wish to bring to the notice of MCC Commissioner regarding irregular and poor supply of water. It is an irony that when both KRS and Mettur Dams are full and thousands of cusecs of precious fresh water is being let off into the sea, we the tax-paying citizens on Lalitha Mahal Road are struggling for water to meet our minimum requirement.

We normally get water on alternate days. However, since a month we get water once in three days, that too just for a few hours forcing the residents to purchase water on other days. Whenever we approach the water supply office adjacent to the entrance of Karanji Lake, more often than not it is locked.

We believe the major cause is the indifferent and couldn't-care-less-attitude by the staff and poor supervision by the higher-ups.

We request our new MCC Commissioner to kindly intervene at the earliest and arrange for normal water supply for the residents on Lalitha Mahal Road.

Separate enclosures for boys and girls at 'Yuva Sambhrama'

Mysuru, Sept.19 (YDS&BCT)- Cracking down on unruly mob behaviour and incidents of eve-teasing on the first day of Yuva Sambhrama at the Open Air Theatre inside Manasagangothri campus, the city Police and Yuva Sambhrama organisers have bifurcated the Open Air Theatre gallery where there are separate places for girls and boys.

To bolster security further, a special CCTV unit with 30 cameras has been set up inside the Open Air Theatre where Police teams are continuously monitoring footages at the venue. The monitoring will be done from the beginning of the event till the end.

On the first day, inaugural evening of Yuva Sambhrama (Sept.17), the organisers and the Police had allowed girls and boys to occupy seats in front of the stage and there was no division.

V.V. Puram Inspector Vinay, Jayalakshmipuram ASI Indramma, Women Police Constables Ambika and Apoorva, along with a technical person, monitoring over 30 CCTV cameras set up at Yuva Sambhrama venue.

After the inauguration by the VIP and address by Actor Ganesh, cultural programmes began and went on till over 11 pm.

As the crowd swayed enjoying the music and dance performances on the stage, girls were allegedly eve-teased. Though the Police noticed the happenings in the CCTV cameras, they decided not to take action as it might disrupt the proceedings and instead enforce the rules more stringently from the second day of the event.

Sources told Star of Mysore that the Police were rather cautious that being the first day of Yuva Sambhrama.

"However, we took one youth to the Jayalakshmipuram Police Station as we found him carrying a beer bottle inside the gallery and creating trouble. We booked a petty case and warned him before letting him go," said a Police officer.

Following the first day's incident, the gallery at the Open Air Theatre has now been divided into two enclosures and there are separate places for girls and boys.

Sept.26 is the last day of Yuva Sambhrama and the Police are confident of a peaceful, enjoyable Dasara Youth Festival without any future disturbing events.

‘Make Mysuru a clean, plastic-free city’

Actor Srujan Lokesh inaugurates UoM’s three-day Inter-Collegiate literary and cultural contests

Mysuru, Sept.19 (PM&DM)- The three-day Inter-Collegiate Literary and Cultural contests of the University of Mysore (UoM) organised by the University Students Welfare Directorate, began at Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar Hall of Senate Bhavan in Manasagangothri here on Sept.18.

Cine actor Srujan Lokesh of ‘Maja Talkies’ fame inaugurated the event by lighting the lamp.

Speaking on the occasion, Srujan said that Mysuru, which is known as the cultural capital of the State, had earned the ‘Cleanest City’ tag for two successive years.

But later on, the city dropped its topmost standing and he would like to see the city regain its No.1 position as the Cleanest City, for which the students should join hands, he said. He also called upon the students to make Mysuru a plastic-free city.

Referring to Bengaluru, the actor, quoting a survey which said that 40 percent of prepared food was going waste in the capital, regretted that such a huge quantity of food is going waste at a time when many people suffered from hunger.

Underlining the toil of farmers in food production, Srujan appealed the people not to waste food for any reason.

SC sets Oct.18 deadline to conclude Ayodhya arguments

New Delhi, Sept.19 (UNI)- The Supreme Court yesterday set Oct.18 as deadline for all parties to finish their arguments in the Ayodhya-Babri Masjid title suit land dispute case.

The Top Court asked the respective parties to make all the necessary efforts to conclude their arguments and submissions before the deadline.

Chief Justice of India Ranjan Gogoi, who is heading the five-member Constitutional Bench, is set to retire on Nov.17- which may give a month’s time to the Bench to write the judgement.

The other four Judges are Justices S. Arvind Bobde, Ashok Bhushan, D.Y. Chandrachud and S. Abdul Nazeer. The Bench also observed that the parties fighting the case can also attempt to settle the dispute by mediation.

“The mediation process can go on if any party wanted to do so, but at the same time, the hearing which is going on at present will simultaneously go,” it said. The terms of settlement and process of meditation would be confidential.

From Aug.6 onwards, the Apex Court has been hearing the case on a day-to-day basis, after the mediation process, conducted by a three-member Mediation panel, failed.

The Apex Court is hearing a batch of petitions challenging the 2010 Allahabad High Court judgement trifurcating the disputed site. While Hindu Mahasabha has already completed arguments and submissions before the Apex Court, the Muslim side is arguing the case now.

Decoding Mythology

Dr. Devdutt Pattanaik - Author, Speaker, Illustrator, Mythologist

How we are motivated by Kama & propelled by Yama

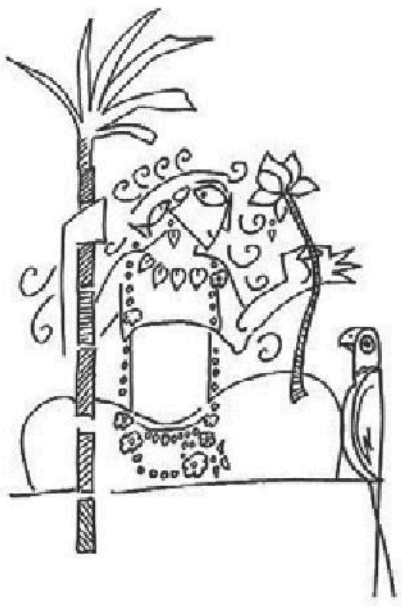
Shiva is called the destroyer because he destroys our desire — Kama, and he destroys death itself — Yama. Kama is associated with life, and Yama with death. Shiva destroys both the desire for life and the fear of death and thus he is the God of Liberation or 'Moksha'. Imagine a world where we don't have to do anything, and we don't want anything, where there are no aspirations or obligations. Then we create Kailash, abode of Shiva, a world without wants or needs. When we live like Shiva without any wants and needs, we have no desire for wealth or power or success or staff. That is why ascetics of India have no home, no property, no relationships. They are a burden to no one, and they have no burdens. They have no debt. No one owes them anything. They are free.



Kama put us in debt as he fills us with lust, desire, yearnings and longings. He makes us want to be rich, to have a bigger house, a bigger car, better clothes, to travel abroad, spend more money, have lavish weddings. When people become successful, they start outsourcing the work to other people because they can afford to do it and when they are very successful, they have an army of staff. In India, level one of success means we have no staff; level two has part-time staff; level three has one full-time staff; and level four has multiple, full-time staff. These are aspirations, wants. We don't need them, but we want them. It is Kamadeva that wants us to have ambition, to think big, to start businesses, to move from level 1 to level 4. These are things we want to do and not have to do. Kama is an archer and his arrows that strike us fill us with sweet sorrow.

By contrast, Yama is about things we have to do. Yama embodies obligations. He is the keeper of debts. He forces us to be reborn till all debts are repaid. Debt is a very important concept in Hinduism — hrinn. They say we are all bound by debt and the whole purpose of Moksha or freedom is to be free of our debts. We owe our lives to our parents, our ancestors, our society and to nature at large and so have to repay all these debts before we can be truly free. Yama yokes everyone with his noose, and does not let go. He is the grim accountant of karma.

Thus, we have these two forces in our lives. There is Kama-deva who motivates us with desires and aspirations. There is Yama-raja who propels us to uphold our obligations and responsibilities. If we ask ourselves why we work, we realise it is not always because of aspiration. It is often because of obligation. We work not because we want to work but because we have to work. When we are struck by Kama-deva's arrows, we have an inner drive. When we are bound by Yama's noose, there is no drive. Work is only a burden to bear.

It is often assumed that Kama motivates the privileged and Yama propels the unprivileged. But that is not true. Many rich people work as they are obliged by family expectation and many poor people do what they do because they like it, and not necessarily because it makes them money. In the rainy season, across North India, young men are encouraged to carry water from Ganga to their village temple in pots that must never be placed on the ground. This is the kavad. It is a metaphor for the obligations of life that they must carry as responsible householders. They may not be struck by Kama's arrows but they are obliged by Yama's noose.

Integrity, a rare commodity...

By N.K.A. Ballal,
Retd. Sr. Vice-President, ITDC

Ballal

INTEGRITY and SELF-RESPECT are the two most precious jewels. How would you explain integrity to a small child: The ability to do the right thing or choosing to do the right thing when you could get away with doing the wrong thing. Corruption has become deep-rooted all over and when one finds some rare instances of honesty and integrity, it must be highlighted so that some more get converted to be honest citizens. It requires lots of guts and courage to say "no" to large sums of money when offered. In Delhi, an officer who took a legitimate cut is considered to be an honest officer ! Only if he or she demands more than the standard cut, he or she is considered corrupt !!

An old Irish saying goes: "Three apples fell from the tree. One for he who tells the story, one for whom reads and finally one for the who understands."

You will have one apple when you read this. I hope you receive two !

Once upon a time, a merchant on a jaunt through a market, came across a fine specimen of a camel for sale.

The merchant and the camel seller, both skilled negotiators stuck a hard bargain. The camel seller pleased with his skill of worming out what he felt was a very good price, parted with his camel and the merchant chuffed that he had stuck a fantastic bargain, proudly walked home with the latest addition to his large livestock.

On arriving home, the merchant called his servant to come and help him take out the camel's saddle since the unwieldy saddle was too heavy for a single man to remove.

Hidden under the saddle, the servant found a small velvet packet pouch which on opening he discovered to be filled with precious jewels.

The servant was over excited, "Master, you bought a camel but see what came free along with it."

The merchant was astonished as he looked at the jewels in his servant's palm. They were of extraordinary quality, sparkling and twinkling in the sunlight. "I bought the camel," he said, not the jewels. I must return them to the camel seller immediately.

The servant was aghast. His master was really foolish. "Master, no one will know."

The merchant headed right back to the market and handed over the velvet pouch back to the camel seller. The camel seller was very happy. "I had forgotten that I had hidden these jewels for safe keeping. Here, choose one of the jewels for yourself, a reward. The merchant said, I paid a fair price for the camel and the camel only. No thank you. I do not need any reward.

But as much as the merchant refused, the camel seller insisted.

Finally the merchant said, sheepishly smiling "actually when I decided to bring the pouch back to you, I already took two of the most precious jewels and kept them for myself."

At this confession, the camel seller was a little flabbergasted and quickly emptied the pouch to count the jewels.

However, he was confused. "All my jewels are here. What jewels did you keep ?"

"The two most precious," said the merchant — MY INTEGRITY AND MY SELF-RESPECT.

How would you explain integrity to a small child: THE ABILITY TO DO THE RIGHT THING OR CHOOSING TO DO THE RIGHT THING WHEN YOU COULD GET AWAY WITH DOING THE WRONG THING.

Sometimes I used to wonder as to why Star of Mysore published stories of autorickshaw drivers or a student returning small amount of money they found on the roads or elsewhere. But after reading this story, it dawned upon me that they do it to highlight the INTEGRITY since it has become a rare commodity. Corruption has become so deep-rooted all over and when one finds some rare instances of honesty and integrity it must be highlighted so that some more get converted to be an honest citizen.

For a Government servant to be corrupt-free and be honest is very difficult decision. He is often ridiculed and laughed at. Once I was discussing this corruption matter with an IAS friend at Delhi in an informal gathering. He asked me, "If I give you ten lakh as bribe what would you do ?" I replied that I would refuse it. He continued "If I offer you fifty lakh, what would you do?" I said "I would still refuse it." Then he said "If I offer you Rs. 5 crore, how would you react?" I kept quiet for some time. Then he said "it requires lots of guts and courage to say "no" to large sums of money when offered. Specially in Delhi where an officer who took a legitimate cut is considered to be an honest officer! Only if he or she demands more than the standard cut he or she is considered corrupt!

Just one look at the huge bungalows constructed by Government servants, one can make out how much corruption is prevalent all over. You want a Government job, one has to shell out huge sums of money. If you have good enough influence, you may get a discount ! There is not a single arm of the Government which can say with conviction that they are honest.

Once a friend of mine was raided by the Income Tax officials. He was not disturbed and went about his work calmly. I asked him, "How can you remain so calm?" He explained that for a price everything could be fixed and it was done too! He got a clean chit from the tax officials.

So in this Kaliyuga, if you come across an honest businessman or a man of integrity, he or she deserves all the accolades and respect. Do you agree?

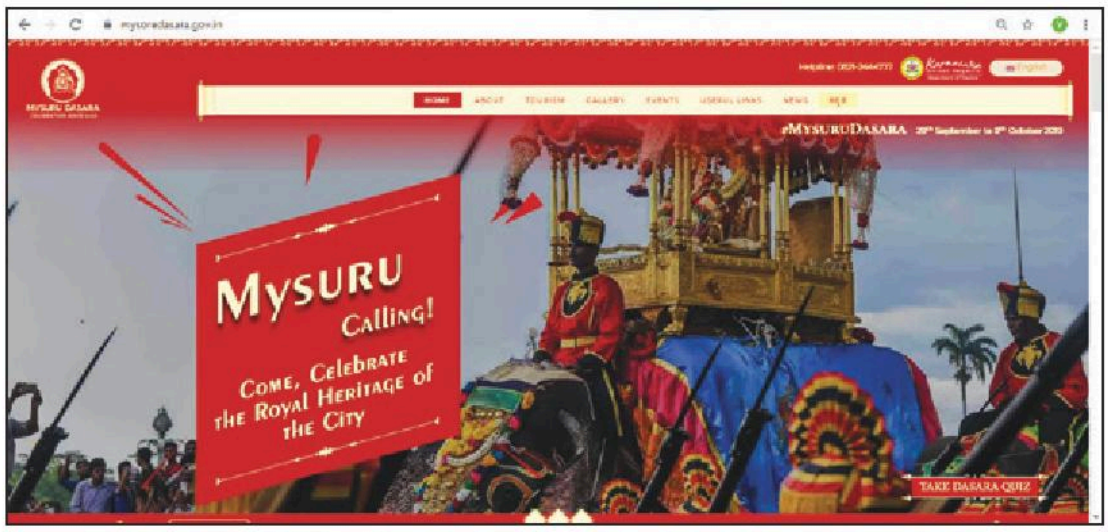
Traffic highest from Bengaluru, America; plans to attract Europe



Mysuru, Sept. 19 (NNN)- Mysuru Dasara-2019 website www.mysoredasara.gov.in has been re-launched and in its new avatar it is generating very high traffic, particularly from netizens in Bengaluru and the United States of America (USA).

The total hits as on Sept.15 are 85,029 and the highest hit was on the same day (Sept.15) with 10,639 hits. Average time spent on website is 3 minute 55 seconds.

Tourism Department Deputy Director H. Janardhan, speaking to Star of Mysore yesterday, said that the most visited pages were Events, Home Page and Dasara Tickets. The top six countries that visited the website included India, United States, United Arab Emirates, United Kingdom and Germany and the highest traffic among all these is from Bengaluru.

Top five regions in the country that visited are Karnataka,Tamil Nadu, Maharashtra, Telangana and Kerala, while top five cities are Bengaluru, Mysuru, Chennai, Hubballi and Mangaluru.

When it comes to international traffic, US tops the list with the top five regions California, Texas, Illinois, New York and North Carolina while the top five US cities are Chicago, Irvine, New York, Charlotte and San Jose.

The Department has also provided the statistics on the kind of devices used to access information and the Device Category are: Mobile users: 73.14 per cent, Tablet users: 0.87 per cent, Desktop users: 25.99 per cent.

"It is a win-win situation for everyone including the Department, tour operators and the end users. We are also planning to tap Europe sector so that international tourists can plan their visit a year in advance. This is apart from the conventional publicity like branding in Railway Stations, Bus Stands and hoardings in strategic locations," he said.

However, the tour operators said that the effort though is very good, it looks like too little, too late as mostly it is the domestic travellers who come, while the international travellers though visit the website do not have time to plan the travel.

MYSURU
DASARA - 2019
CELEBRATION SINCE 1610 AD
SEPTEMBER 29
TO OCTOBER 8

Mysuru Travels Association President B.S. Prashanth, speaking to SOM, said it was a good sign that the people are searching the website for information on Dasara. But, if only the efforts were done much earlier then the response would have been better.

Asked how much of the hits will turn into business, he said that the hope is from the domestic tourists and the response would be known only when the booking starts for hotels and vehicles.

Asked about the Karnataka International Travel Expo held recently in Bengaluru, he said that since it was a B-2-B (business to business), there were 300 domestic businesses and over 100 international players including travel and writers and bloggers who showed interest. As a result, a few of the tour operators from city were sending itineraries for booking hotel rooms in Mysuru, Kodagu and Wayanad. But most of the leads were from domestic tourists, he added.

Flights boost tourism

However, the hope this year for expecting more tourists is because of air services from Mysore Airport to cities like Chennai, Hyderabad, Kochi and Goa and hence more tourists from these places are likely to visit Mysuru during Dasara, said Prashanth.

Dasara Website

The Dasara website as soon as it opens shows "Mysuru Calling, come celebrate the Royal Heritage of the City" with the Howdah elephant carrying Goddess Chamundeshwari in the background and the second screen shows, "A Royal Celebration you can't miss' depicting the torchlight parade and the illuminated K.R. Circle.

The website is also announcing about Dasara Quiz which began from Sept. 14 and the results are being announced regularly.

Apart from this, another attraction is that people can click photographs and upload to the social media with hashtag #MysuruDasara and get featured.

Parked trucks turn stumbling blocks for KRS Road works

By Vinay Karekura

Mysuru, Sept. 19- Huge trucks parked on the busy KRS Road have become a stumbling block for the ongoing road development works. The pothole-ridden KRS Road and its adjoining roads are being repaired at a cost of Rs. 39 crore by the Public Works Department and the works have already begun from J.K. Tyre to Pump House Circle.

Rs. 10 crore has been granted to this 3.8-kilometre stretch and earth-movers are digging the road to make it a full double road with a median at the centre and box drains on both the sides. It is a double road from Mogarahalli to Manti and now the same road is being extended till the Pump House. As the works have begun, the road contractors are facing problems from parked trucks.

Waiting for clearance

These trucks come from other States carrying goods, vehicles and industrial materials and some are so huge that they have 12 to 16 wheels. "Once the trucks arrive, they are straight away parked on the KRS Road and they wait till they get clearance for goods delivery. It might take at least three to four days for them to move to their destinations. Sometimes they are parked on this stretch for weeks," said a road engineer who was supervising digging works.

Contractors told Star of Mysore that these truck drivers go to Mysuru city to spend their time and leave their trucks locked on the road. "They return late in the night and we do not have their contact numbers and there is no way they can be contacted. Sometimes we go in search of them near dhabas and at times truck drivers are in an inebriated state and are not in a position to remove the trucks from the parked places," he added.

Thousands of commuters use this road every day to reach Mysuru, Srirangapatna, Ranganathittu, Mandya and Bengaluru and during rush hour it is a mess with heavy traffic, parked trucks and ongoing road works.

Communication gap

Another contractor told SOM that the truck drivers do not know the local language and we do not understand Hindi. "As such, it is very difficult to converse with them. And sometimes they are agitated even if we tell them politely to remove the vehicles. The Police must make some alternative arrangements for the trucks to park," he said.

There are instances of truck tyres getting punctured due to the heavy weight it carries. In such a situation, cranes are brought from the factories to shift the goods. This is one more problem, say commuters.

"KRS Road has turned into a parking zone with no control over vehicles. This is unacceptable. Police impose hefty fines for other vehicles for parking in a no-parking zone but they spare these trucks. Sometimes, two trucks block a road simultaneously and there is no space for even a cycle to pass," said Naveen, a regular commuter.

Howdah test for Arjuna

After the Howdah was fixed, all the 12 elephants were taken out for their usual rehearsal on Jumboo Savari route from the Balarama Gate (North Gate) of the Mysore Palace at 8.10 am. The elephants passed via K.R. Circle, Sayyaji Rao Road, Government Ayurveda Hospital Circle where a two-minute stop was given. The elephants then continued their march to reach Old RMC Circle where again a two-minute stop was given and later continued via Abul Kalam Azad Circle to reach the Torchlight Parade Grounds in Bannimantap at 9.28 pm.

The elephants took about an hour and 18 minutes to reach the Torchlight Parade Grounds on Nelson Mandela Road.

Upon reaching the Torchlight Parade Grounds, only the sand bags were removed from the back of Arjuna. As there was no crane installed at the Torchlight Parade Grounds, Arjuna had to carry the 380-kg wooden howdah back to the Palace. After the elephants were fed they resumed their journey back to the Palace at 9.50 am.

Dangling wires

While the elephants moved on the Jumboo Savari route, CESC officials accompanied them to check if any of the electric wires came in contact with the wooden howdah and wherever electric wires were sagging, the officials instructed the staff to raise the height of the electric wires so that they would not obstruct during the grand finale.

Traffic Police personnel, who were accompanying the elephants had a tough time controlling the traffic, especially on New Sayyaji Rao Road as many two-wheeler riders zigzagged between the vehicles and disturbing the elephants in the process.

Meanwhile, Veterinarian Dr. D.N. Nagaraju said that the training of carrying the wooden howdah by Arjuna began this morning and added that elephants Abhimanyu, Dhananjaya and Eshwara too would be trained in carrying the wooden howdah on alternate days.

He further said that Arjuna carried a total weight of 600-kg today and added that the weight would be increased in the coming days till the weight reached the weight of the Golden Howdah which is 750-kg.

DCF Alexander, who also spoke, said that the Dasara elephants, which were housed at various elephant camps were brought to Mysuru on Aug. 22 and they entered the Palace on Aug. 26. Training on Jumboo Savari route began on Aug. 27 and after a few days they were trained in carrying weight. As Arjuna had experience, he carried the wooden howdah with ease, he said and added that all the elephants were fit and healthy.

Dasara Air Show on Oct. 2

"Torchlight Parade is a mega event that attracts many VVIPs, VIPs including Governor, Judges of High Court and elected representatives. Officials have been instructed to organise the event smoothly," he added.

Currently, the Grounds can accommodate about 32,000 spectators compared to the earlier 20,000.

Somanna also informed that a meeting of City Police Commissioner, Superintendent of Police, DGP (Southern Range) had been called on Sept. 25 to discuss security arrangements and maintaining law and order during the 10-day festival. He also added that if necessary DG&IG Neelamani N. Raju would also be invited for the meeting.

Arrangements during Jumboo Savari

For the privacy of neo-natal mothers, authorities will set up breast-feeding centres throughout the Jumboo Savari route. This apart, e-toilets and dispensaries will be set up.

Flood relief works

The State Government had released Rs. 1,000 crore for the construction of new houses for flood victims and Rs. 500 crore for carrying out repair of bridges and roads damaged due to heavy downpour.

He said that he would visit Madikeri on Sept. 23 to inspect the sites where houses would be constructed for flood victims.

Visit to Mysore Palace

Somanna visited Mysore Palace and inspected Jumboo Savari preparations.

He directed officials to ensure that the arrangements for Dasara procession were completed on time.

'All vacant posts filled in Karnataka Prisons Department'

DGP N.S. Megharikh at Jail Warders Passing Out Parade

N.S. Megharikh, Director General of Police, Karnataka Prisons and Correctional Services, presenting the Best All Round Prize to Jail Warder Shivaputra Dhareppa Shiraguppi from Belagavi, at the Passing Out Parade of Jail Warders organised by the Temporary Police Training School at the CAR Grounds in city this morning as IGP Southern Range Vipul Kumar, City Police Commissioner K.T. Balakrishna and others look on.

Mysuru, Sept. 19 (RK&NNN)- "Last year 1,070 people were recruited to the Prisons Department and thus 100 per cent vacancy has been filled. This is the only Department in which all the posts have been filled, unlike in other Departments where there are 30 to 40 per cent vacancies," said N.S. Megharikh, Director General of Police, Karnataka Prisons and Correctional Services.

He was speaking as the chief guest at the Passing Out Parade of the first batch of Jail Warders organised by the Temporary Police Training School at the CAR Grounds, here this morning and said that the whole process of recruitment had been done in a very transparent manner.

"Candidates were recruited within two months of advertisement and there was no influence or pressure from anyone. Majority of the Jail Warders are highly educated and this can be seen by the fact that out of 1,070 recruited, there are 289 engineers," he said.

"Once you don the uniform, then you must think of serving the nation with a sense of social service and discharge the duty without any prejudice. The jail safety and security of prisoners is paramount and all their rights must be protected," he told the Warders.

Exhorting the Jail Warders to follow the human rights carefully as the days of the British era are over and many prison reforms have taken place, he said that the health of the jail inmates was very important both physically and mentally.

"We do not have the right to torture the jail inmates. Instead, as Jail Warders you must counsel them and see that their mindsets are changed and they could be brought back to mainstream of society," said Megharikh.

Earlier, the DGP inspected the attractive Parade taken out by the Warders and the oath was read out. The family members of the Warders, many of them from North Karnataka, were present.

Out of the 85 Jail Warders who passed out, nine are Post-Graduates, 11 have BE degrees, 51 graduates and 14 have passed PUC. They have undergone one year training and will be posted to different Districts.

Toppers in various activities

Jail Warder Shivaputra Dhareppa Shiraguppi from Belagavi has bagged the All Round Prize with 1,532 marks. In the Indoor activity, Suresh Jagadish Nyamanagowda from Bagalkot bagged the first place, Siddalingappa from Raichur stood second and third place was bagged by Shivaputra Dhareppa Shiraguppi.

Echoing the Mentor's Style

T.V. Shankaranarayan presenting a vocal concert at 8th Cross, V.V. Mohalla, on Sept.9 as part of the 58th Heritage Music Festival organised by SPVGMC Trust. He is accompanied by Tumkur B. Ravishankar on mridanga, Sharat Kaushik on ghata and Nagai Sriram on violin.

By Dr. Padmavathi Narasimhan

Senior vocalist Sangeetha Kalanidhi T.V. Shankaranarayan performed on Sept.9 at 8th Cross, V.V. Mohalla. He was accompanied on violin by Nagai Sriram, mridanga by Tumkur B. Ravishankar and ghata by Sharat Kaushik.

Shankaranarayan's music is never stale. It is always lively and full of energy, which is transferred to the audience. At 74, his singing is shruti-aligned and high-spirited. Like his uncle, Madhurai Mani Iyer, he is known for many of his signature compositions a couple of which were presented on this occasion.

'Mohanakara Muddukuvara Shreekara Karuna' (Neetimati, Koteeshwara Iyer) and 'Bhuvaneshwariya Nene Manasave' in Mohana Kalyani by Muttiah Bhagavatar and 'Eka Radanam Varana Vadanam' on Lord Ganesha in Hindola echoed the style of his mentor and Guru.

A sketch of the concert by artist Harsha Nagaraju of Mysuru.

In his delineation of Mohanakalyani, Shankarabharana and Brindavana Saranga, the senior vocalist charmed the listeners with his energetic and brisk swaras and brief brigas which were executed with excellent clarity.

A unique aspect of Mani Iyer's singing which was his improvisation of long phrases gliding up the scale was taken up by Shankaranarayan in many of his swara essays at 'Mangalathmaka Mohana Kaaya' by Purandaradasaru's 'Odi Barayya Vaikuntha Pati Ninna' and Tyagaraja's 'Edutanilichite.' The RTP was chosen in Brindavana Saranga on Lord Ranganatha and the artiste announced that the raga was chosen as it was a favourite of Himamshu, the person behind the entire event.

The lyrics was 'Sri Ranga Hari Ranga Pandu Ranga Brindavana Saranga' set to Khanda Triputa Tala, coloured with Ragamalika swaras in Kedaragowla and Behag.

Ravishankar and Sharat Kaushik offered a grand Taniyavartanam for the RTP.

The post tani part included a Tamil viruttam in Hamsanandi and Sindhubhairavi leading onto Purandaradasaru's 'Venkatachala Nilayam', 'Eppo Varum Varum' of Mani Iyer's fame in Jonpuri and the ever-green nottu 'G,mm rgp, rgs.'

Nagai Sriram extended excellent support on violin and was able to adapt the senior vocalist's style instantly.

Mysuru veterans strike it rich at State Ranking TT Championship

Mysuru, Sept.19- K.V. Krishnamurthy (KVK), Dr. Sainath and Sushila Pillay, all veteran Table Tennis (TT) players from Mysuru, hit medals in the B. Narayan Rao Memorial Karnataka Vet TT Ranking Tournament held at Malleswaram Association in Bengaluru recently.

In Men's 75-plus age group final, much fire work was expected. KVK and Dr. Sainath, both had won two matches each in League to fight the final.

KVK, a doyen player of Vet TT from Mysuru and also the eX-President of Mysore District TT Association, beat Dr. Sainath 3-0. It was one of those days when KVK could do nothing wrong. Every FH and BH attacking strokes of his found the table corners leaving Dr. Sainath stranded without a reply. A very creditable performance by KVK.

In an earlier round, Dr. Sainath playing against Gopalan created a record of some sort.

Gopalan, an ex-National Team Gold winner in 75-year group, playing his consistent game was leading 2 games to 1 and 10-4 in the fourth game needing just a single point to win the match.

Dr. Sainath turned the table in front of the spell bound spectators by winning 8 consecutive points to win the 4th game and went on to win the 5th game and the match.

Sushila could not repeat her last two tournament's performance of beating Lathika, who countered successfully every attacking move by Sushila and also brought in many FH smashes for a comfortable 3-0 win in the final. Lathika is used to getting Gold repeatedly over the years. It was the third consecutive Silver for Sushila, who is relatively a newcomer to TT.

Forest Department's initiative

Be a Bamboo Grower

Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa and Dy.CM Dr. Ashwath Narayan watering a sapling during "Vrikshotsava-2019" organised by Forest Department at Agara Lake in Bengaluru on Tuesday as others look on.

Mysuru, Sept.19 (NNN)-Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa inaugurated Vrikshotsava-2019 organised by the Forest Department in Bengaluru on Tuesday.

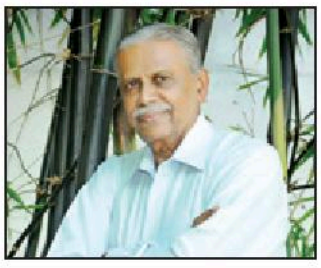
Vrikshotsava is termed by the Forest Department as the "Celebration of Forests, Wildlife and Environment." It was also celebrated to mark Prime Minister Narendra Modi's birthday on Sept.17 with people of Karnataka taking a pledge to ensure "Forests for Water, Plastic-free Environment and Afforestation."

As part of this initiative, the Forest Department has also come out with a project "Be a Bamboo Grower," for the farmers asking them to avail great financial benefits. The benefits include subsidy of Rs.50,000 per hectare if bamboo is planted — in the first year Rs.25,000 for planting 375-450 plants; Rs.15,000 in the second year if 80 per cent of the plants have survived and Rs.10,000 in the third year for 100 per cent survival.

The Department has asked the people to register as farmer at: www.nbm.nic.in. Now, what is nbm? It means National Bamboo Mission. The restructured National Bamboo Mission (NBM) was approved in April 2018 for implementation till the end of 14th Finance Commission, that is, 2019-20. The scheme aims to inter-alia supplement farm income of farmers with focus on the development of complete value chain of bamboo sector linking growers with industry.

How much of this scheme actually works on the ground?

According to A.C. Lakshmana, IFS (retd.), former Secretary to Government of Karnataka and Advisor to two Bamboo Mission Committees, Karnataka, the farmers when they plant bamboo to supplement their farm income should understand something very important before planting.



A.C. Lakshmana, IFS (retd.)

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Lakshmana said that the first thing a farmer needs to understand is the value addition that the planting of bamboo brings. Hence, he strongly advocates that a farmer before planting bamboo should visit the Institute of Wood Science and Technology (IWST) and try to understand the pros and cons of planting bamboos and trying to supplement his or her income.

For instance, if a farmer plants bamboo in half-an-acre of his four-acre plot, it will grow in no time as it is the fastest growing plant. But there must be value addition to it as it has social, commercial and economical advantage. "One of the most important characters of bamboo is it can prevent landslides that occur in Kodagu and Kerala if it is grown along with Lavancha grass as it prevents soil erosion."

The bamboo shoot is considered as one of the useful health foods because of its rich contents of proteins, carbohydrates, vitamins, fibres, minerals and very low fat," added Lakshamana.

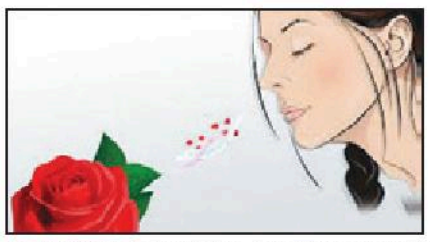
WORD OF THE DAY

Olfactory

Pronunciation: ahl-FAK-tuh-ree.



Meaning: Of or relating to the sense of smell.
Origin: Olfactory derives from the past participle of the Latin olfacere ("to smell"), which was formed from the verb olēre ("to give off a smell") and facere ("to do"). Olfactory is a word that often appears in scientific contexts (as in "olfactory nerves," the nerves that pass from the nose to the brain and contain the receptors that make smelling possible), but it has occasionally branched out into less specialised contexts. The pleasant smell of spring flowers, for example, might be considered an "olfactory delight." A related word, olfaction, is a noun referring to the sense of smell or the act or process of smelling.
Example: "The glands located between the cat's toes secrete a scent whenever he scratches on objects such as a tree or a scratching post. This activity provides an olfactory territory mark in addition to the visual." — Pam Johnson-Bennett.

THE ODD WORD

To seal or confirm.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Out Of The Blue

Meaning: To say that the issue or situation was completely unexpected; suddenly. You can use it when you are surprised by something that was not expected to happen.
Origin: According to some English scholars the idiom is a derivation of an old idiom "a bolt out of the blue" or "a bolt from the blue" which refers to a completely unexpected and surprising act, like a thunderbolt from a clear blue sky... How did people come up with such a strange idiom? The meaning of the word "blue" is revealed by a longer (but much less common) version of the idiom: out of a clear blue sky. "The blue" refers to the blueness of the sky.
Yet another version of the idiom reveals what comes out of a clear blue sky. It is possible to say that something unexpected is a bolt from the blue. While it would make sense that this "bolt" is a projectile fired from a crossbow (these are called "bolts", not arrows), it is much more likely that it simply refers to a thunderbolt, that is, lightning accompanied by thunder—who would expect a thunderbolt from a clear blue sky?
Example: I haven't seen her since childhood. Then, completely out of the blue, I received a letter from her.

World Wrestling Championships

Vinesh Phogat wins bronze after Olympics qualification

Kazakhstan, Sept.19- Vinesh Phogat ended her medal drought at Wrestling World Championships as the star Indian wrestler clinched a bronze in Nur-Sultan, Kazakhstan, on Wednesday.

Vinesh Phogat defeated two-time world bronze medallist Maria Prevolaraki of Greece by fall in the bronze medal bout of 53 kg free-style event.

Vinesh is only the fifth Indian woman wrestler to win a Worlds medal after Alka Tomar (2006), Geeta Phogat (2012), Babita Phogat (2012) and Pooja Dhanda (2018).

The win comes as a double delight for the young Indian wrestler as she won India an Olympic quota in the 53 kg freestyle event earlier on Wednesday. Vinesh Phogat had shown excellent defensive skills when she defeated World No.1 Sarah Ann Hilderbrandt of USA in the second repechage round.

Despite having won the Commonwealth Games and the Asian Games gold medals, a World Championships medal was missing from her decorated trophy cabinet before the ongoing Tournament in Nur-Sultan.
